MICROCOSMOS

Enter the surprising world of Microcosmos, where the tiny becomes gigantic.

A giant grasshopper cyborg is shaking its legs, while acrobats and electric violinists are playing on them. The head exhales smoke at the spectators and moves it from right to left. It is followed by a fully mechanical spider which comes to entertain the public by waterspraying them.

These two structures, that are pushing the limits of nature and mechanics, are accompanied by insects on stilts, mysterious and curious to see the world from so high.

In the daytime, the details of the show are blurred but at night, the lighting effects are simply magic. Both times, these amazing insects will take your breath away.

JIMYPRIDE

...to surprise, amaze and dazzle the audience...

THE LEGEND OF THE OCTOPUSSY

Coming straight ahead from the magical and fantastic universe of Jules Verne, Octopussy, the huge colourful octopus, hangs on the Nautilus. Out of the sea, the Octopussy waves its huge transparent tentacles, which change the colours right above the head of the spectators, with curiosity and grace. Leading the way to the submarine, the deep-sea divers of another time progress slowly and amazingly. They blow kilometers of ribbons at the spectators. On its way, this extraordinary procession gives a hint of magic to both children and adults, who are charmed by the colours and peaceful movements of the Octopussy and its acrobat while the bubbles follow their procession.

ELEPHANTASIA

The show of Elephantasia transports you into a coloured and magical universe with its Indian dancers and stilts who follow the rhythm of authentic Indian music.

The majestic machine imitates the natural walk of the elephant. Its head and trunk fully resemble the real animal and are moved by visible mechanics. The elephant plays with the public and entertains the spectators by watering them with his trunk which is equipped with water jets. The crazy mahout climbs up on the neck of the elephant, and invites the public to dance in the Bollywood world. Impressive and majestic, the Elephant brings joy and wonder on its way.

It is also possible to have this show with a Circus Theme, together with jugglers, acrobats and clowns.
