Description

Four traveler ladies grab the attention of the public, enchanting them in their sensational, eye-catching masquerade while they are wandering on the streets, spreading a multitude of colorful petals and perfuming their passage with scents of Arabian Nights.

At nightfall, they are sparkling by the lights of their costumes like thousands of little fireflies. The show is interactive the actor on the ground creates contact with the spectators with small treasures (shells, feathers, dried flowers, candy according to the theme of the chosen performance)
